Please note that we cannot accept materials in poor condition, textbooks, cassette tapes, magazines, encyclopedia sets, or computer software. Most materials donated to the VCU Libraries are sold at our annual Friends of the Library Book Sale. All proceeds from the Book Sale directly benefit the VCU Libraries. Thank you for donating your materials to the VCU Libraries. We greatly appreciate your donation, but it isn't entirely free for us! There are many costs associated with book and materials donations, from staff time to evaluate and process materials, to allocating space for storage of donated items. A cash gift from you will help defray these costs and further the benefit of your donation for students and faculty throughout VCU.

- Yes! I would like to make an additional gift to help defray the costs associated with this donation. Please send me more information.
- No, I'd rather not make a cash gift at this time.

Help us go green and save paper and postage costs.

The above donor has received no tangible benefit in the form of goods or services in return for this donation. Neither Virginia Commonwealth University nor the VCU Libraries can be responsible for the valuation of the gift based on State of Virginia and United States tax law. State of Virginia tax instructions provide for deductions at the "fair market value of the property at the time of the contribution." United States tax instructions state that for deductions for gifts of property "you must submit a statement containing a description of the property, the cost or other basis, date of acquisition and method of valuation."
