

Importing Citations from Google Scholar into RefWorks

Step 1: Configure Google Scholar by selecting Scholars Preferences and choosing RefWorks as the Bibliography Manager.

Step 2:

- Search Google Scholar.
- Select the Import into RefWorks link for the record you want to import.
- If you are not logged into RefWorks, you will be prompted for your username and password.
- You will be in the Edit view of the reference. If you do not need to edit the reference, move to any other area of RefWorks.
- Your citation will appear in the Last Imported folder.

NOTE:

1. You may have to add missing information to the reference. That is why the reference opens in Edit.
2. You may import just one reference at a time.