NEW DIGITAL LIBRARY COLLECTIONS ADDED 2009-10

Note: Some of the library materials mentioned in this document are still in the procurement process and may not be available yet in the catalog or on the A-Z list of databases.

:: JOURNALS

During the 2010 academic year, 529 new journals were acquired by the VCU Libraries in three major journal packages and through numerous individual subscriptions across the wide spectrum of arts, business, humanities, social sciences, engineering, sciences, and health sciences disciplines. Many more new journals were made available through journal collections, such as EBSCOhost, Factiva, and MDConsult. In addition, important journal backfiles were added that deepen the coverage for the library’s existing journals. For a list of new journals acquired in 2010, see http://www.library.vcu.edu/cm/documents/NewJournalTitlesfor2010.pdf.

:: OTHER DIGITAL LIBRARY MATERIALS

Birds of North America Online
Comprehensive reference covering the life histories of North American breeding birds. Includes images and videos of plumage, behaviors, habitat, nest, and eggs. Contains songs and calls.

Black Studies Center
The major indexing and full-text database for African American studies. It includes the Schomburg Studies on the Black Experience, a series of essays by leading scholars about the Black Experience; historical backfiles of The Chicago Defender and Daily Defender; the International Index to Black Periodicals, which covers scholarly and popular Black Studies journals, including full text for many titles; and Black Literature Index, which contains over 70,000 bibliographic citations for fiction, poetry and literary reviews published in 110 black periodicals and newspapers between 1827-1940.

Conference Proceedings Citation Index
Accessed via Web of Science, helps researchers access the published literature from the most significant conferences, symposia, seminars, colloquia, workshops, and conventions worldwide. This resource offers a complete view of conference proceedings and their impact on global research, letting you use cited reference searching to track emerging ideas and new research beyond what is covered in the journal literature. Two editions cover the sciences and social sciences and humanities.

Counseling and Therapy in Video
Hundreds of therapy sessions, case consultations, lectures, and interviews. Features over 175 therapists practicing more than 50 therapeutic approaches. Includes 55 teaching and discussion guides.

Dance in Video
Productions and documentaries covering ballet, tap, jazz, contemporary, experimental, and improvisational dance. Includes documentaries about choreographers and videos on dance training. Browse, search, and cite the videos to the exact moment. New tools let you make custom clips of the performances and assemble them into class-specific playlists. Bookmark specific dance styles and staging examples—even a single motion—with permanent, per-second URLs, and then annotate them, share them, e-mail them, include them in papers and course reserves, use them with course management applications, and see playlists created by other users around the world.

Dentistry and Oral Sciences Source (DOSS)
Indexing and abstracts for 160 dental journals, most with full-text available. Also includes full-text of 30 books and IADR/AADR Meeting Abstracts.
FEDRIP (Federal Research in Progress)
Provides access to information about ongoing federally funded projects in the fields of the physical sciences, engineering, and life sciences. Project descriptions are provided by federal agencies and updated monthly.

General Science Index Full Text
Coverage of core journals in all areas of science. Easy to use, designed for the non-specialist. Full-text for selected periodicals.

Historical New York Times (1851-2006)

Comprehensive collection of jazz recordings covering thousands of artists, ensembles, albums, and genres from all over the world from the beginnings of jazz to today.

Music Online (includes Jazz Music Library)
Provides the most comprehensive database in streaming audio, video, reference, and scores on the Web. Integrated searching by ensemble, genre, historical events and more provides in-depth context for music history.

Natural Standard
Provides high quality, evidence-based information about complementary and alternative therapies. This international multidisciplinary collaboration now includes contributors from more than 100 eminent academic institutions.
Nineteenth Century British Pamphlets
Accessed via JSTOR, contain the most significant British pamphlets from the 19th century held in UK research libraries. Pamphlets were an important means of public debate, covering the key political, social, technological, and environmental issues of their day. They have been underutilized within research and teaching because they are generally quite difficult to access – often bound together in large numbers or otherwise hard to find in the few research libraries that hold them. The digitization of more than 20,000 pamphlets from seven UK institutions will provide researchers, students, and teachers with an immensely rich and coherent corpus of primary sources with which to study the socio-political and economic landscape of 19th century Britain.

Philosopher’s Index
Indexes scholarly research in all major fields of philosophy. Covers journals, books, and book reviews.

Play Index
Citations to over 31,000 plays published from 1949 to the present.

ProQuest Dissertations & Theses
Full text for most dissertations from 1997 to the present. Includes full text for some earlier dissertations, along with over 2.4 million dissertations and theses citations from around the world.

RefWorks Community of Science
Includes Funding Opportunities (over 25,000 records representing more than $33 billion in grants, fellowships, prizes, etc. in the arts, humanities, business, education, science, engineering, health and medicine, law, mathematics, social sciences, and technology), Scholar Universe (provides direct access to two million authors, faculty, and researchers working in over 200 disciplines), and Papers Invited (multidisciplinary alerting service for calls for papers issued by professional bodies, journal editors, and other conference organizers).

Short Story Index
Index of more than 76,500 stories from over 4,000 collections.

Springer Images
Access to nearly 2 million photos, graphs, histograms and tables in science, technology and medicine. Includes content from images.MD, among many other sources.

Springer Protocols
Access to over 20,000 life sciences and biomedical protocols, many from the classic series “Methods in Molecular Biology.”
